

International Bottled Water Association PAC

WHY A PAC?

IBWA formed the International Bottled Water Association Political Action Committee (IBWA PAC) to raise campaign contributions for candidates for Congress. It was established to provide IBWA and its members a powerful tool to help build vital bottled water industry relationships, and to educate legislators about its interest in issues such as food safety, BPA, taxes, water infrastructure, FDA funding and others.

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE?

Under federal law, IBWA may regularly solicit contributions only from its own restricted class, non-corporate IBWA members (i.e., individuals, proprietorships, and partnerships), and the restricted class of IBWA corporate members who have given IBWA an Authorization to Solicit. IBWA member companies may grant only one trade association the authority to solicit PAC contributions each year. Under the law, the amounts that may be contributed to and by the IBWA PAC are limited, and steps must be taken to ensure that employee contributions to the IBWA PAC are strictly voluntary and without coercion. Cash contributions over $100 cannot be accepted, and contributions to the IBWA PAC are not deductible for federal income tax purposes.

FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT

J.P. Toner, IBWA Director of Government Relations
(703) 647-4616 or jtoner@bottledwater.org

International Bottled Water Association PAC

In addition to a PAC-to-PAC contribution from the Nestle Waters North America PAC, the IBWA PAC thanks the following individuals for their contribution in 2015:

Shayron Barnes-Selby

Brian Grant

Andrew Peykoff, Sr.

Joe Bell

Damon Grant

Andrew Peykoff, Jr.

Philippe Caradec

George Heikkinen

Ross Rosette

Joe Cimino

Tom Harrington

Bryan Shinn

Terry Clark

Brian Hess

Robert Smith

Joseph Doss

Doug Hupe

Derieth Sutton

Andrew Eaton

Nancy McNally

Lou Vittorio

Allen French

Brian Miller

Lynn Wachtmann

Kelley Goshay

Jillian Olsen

Jack West